The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JANUARY 8th, 1913.

It is not a little astonishing to learn that President TAFT has expressed a view unfavourable to a reference of the Panama Canal dispute to The Hague Tribunal for settlement, because "the anti-American moral pressure on the Tribunal would be so enormous, as all Europe is interested in the tolls question." We are reminded by this of the comments made some years ago in the Japanese Press when the much-discussed House Tax question in the old foreign settlements was referred to The Hague Tribunal and decided against Japan. Similar innuendoes to those with which PRESIDENT TAFT is credited with expressing were then freely made. The "moral pressure" of Europe, it was said in effect, was so enormous that any other verdict than one advantageous to Asiatic interests could scarcely be expected. In that particular case the Tribunal was composed of three eminent jurists, one being a Japanese, and the Court decided against Japan's contention by a majority, the dissenting Judge being the Japanese. In the event of the Panama Tolls question being referred to The Hague, we suppose the Tribunal would be constituted of one British jurist, one American and one representative of a neutral Power, and for President TAFT, once the Chief Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States, and hitherto regarded as a staunch believer in The Hague Tribunal, to be now revealed as one doubting their absolute impartiality is, to say the least, somewhat startling, and is a blow to the hopes of men who dream of the establishment of an International Court at The Hague on which the Powers of the entire world would rely with confidence for an impartial judgment upon the disputes referred to it for authoritative settlement. It is not at all obvious that the sort of Court President TAFT suggests for the arbitration of the Panama dispute—namely, an equal number of American and British citizens—would be free from the objections the PRESIDENT is stated to have advanced against The Hague Tribunal. A month ago it was reported that President TAFT hoped that Mr. KNOX and Mr. BAYNE would be able to negotiate a happy adjustment before Dr. Woodrow WILSON entered the White House and the British Ambassador returned home; but President TAFT seems to have taken up a stand in his diplomatic communications and public speeches that makes "happy adjustment" by such negotiations absolutely hopeless. It now appears to be recognised by the PRESIDENT that the only way to a settlement is by the acceptance of judgment pronounced by some arbitration tribunal. Briefly stated, the American argument is that (1) Britain is interpreting the HAY-PAUNCEFOTE Treaty as if that instrument had not superseded the CLAYTON-BULWER Treaty; (2) The acquisition of the Panama strip places the canal built by American capital absolutely on American territory, and puts a new phase on the construction of the treaty; and (3) England has the right to remit her merchant vessels every shilling charged for the passage of the canal, and that is all the United States proposes to do for American ships. Mr. TAFT and Mr. ROOSEVELT are in agreement on the subject, but SENATOR ROOT, Secretary of State under Mr. ROOSEVELT, strongly supports the British contention that the United States is treaty-bound to open the canal on equal terms to the vessels of all nations, including and not excluding herself. Sir EDWARD GREY in answering the American case says that the case cannot be put more clearly than it was put by Mr. HAY, who, as Secretary of State, negotiated the HAY-PAUNCEFOTE Treaty, in the account of the negotiations which he sent to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations (Senate Document No. 740, 61st Congress, 3rd Session):—"These rules are adopted in the treaty with Great Britain as a consideration for getting rid of the CLAYTON-BULWER Treaty." Sir EDWARD remarks that if the rules set out in the HAY-PAUNCEFOTE Treaty secure to Great Britain no more than most favoured-nation treatment, the value of the consideration given for superseding the CLAYTON-BULWER Treaty is not apparent to His Majesty's Government. Nor is it easy to see in what way the principle of Article 8 of the CLAYTON-BULWER Treaty, which provides for equal treatment of British and United States ships, has been maintained. To the argument that the words "all nations" cannot include the United States because, if the United States were at war it is impossible to believe that the country could be intended to be debarred by the treaty from using its own territory for re-equipping its warships or landing troops, Sir EDWARD GREY replies that

The Hay-Pauncefote Treaty of 1901 aimed at carrying out the principle of the neutralization of the Panama Canal by subjecting it to the same régime as the Suez Canal. Rules 3, 4 and 5 of Article 3 of the treaty are taken almost textually from Articles 4, 5, and 6 of the Suez Canal Convention of 1888. At the date of the signature of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty the territory on which the Isthmian Canal was to be constructed did not belong to the United States, consequently there was no need to insert in the draft treaty provisions corresponding to those in Articles 10 and 13 of the Suez Canal Convention, which preserve the sovereign rights of Turkey and of Egypt, and stipulate that Article 4 and 5 shall not affect the right of Turkey, as the local sovereign, and of Egypt within the measure of her autonomy, to take such measures as may be necessary for securing the defence of Egypt and the maintenance of public order and, in the case of Turkey, the defence of her possessions on the Red Sea.

Now that the United States has become the practical sovereign of the Canal the British Government do not question its title to exercise belligerent rights for its protection. Other arguments are advanced to emphasize the conclusion that any system by which particular vessels or classes of vessels were exempted from the payment of tolls would not comply with the stipulations of the treaty that the Canal should be open on terms of entire equality and that the charges should be just and equitable. Sir EDWARD GREY, in a dispatch published last month, said His Majesty's Government felt convinced that they may look with confidence to the Government of the United States to ensure that, in promoting the interests of United States shipping, nothing will be done to impair the safeguards guaranteed to British shipping by Treaty. It would seem that the only possible way out of the difficulty is by acceptance of the judgment of an arbitration tribunal on the points at issue, and, when once a Court is constituted to the satisfaction of both parties, the acceptance of its judgment will follow as a matter of course.

A new gambling game was mentioned at the Magistracy yesterday, the name being "Half-past-ten." It was stated that it was played like dominoes, the holder of a court card gaining half a point.

The hearing of the charge against a Chinese of murdering an Indian foreman at Pokfulam has been fixed for January 10th before Mr. Hazeland. The Crown Solicitor will prosecute, and Mr. Faithfull will appear for the defence.

Eighteen men appeared before Mr. Hazeland yesterday charged with gambling in a house in Queen's Road West. Mr. Leó d'Almada appeared for the defence, and applied for a remand, which was granted.

Twenty-one men were charged with using No. 17, Centre Street as an opium divan. Inspector Dymond informed his Worship that the men were of a better class than usually found at such places, and the house was conducted more like the old first-class divans. The first defendant (the keeper) was fined $250 or three months' hard labour, the second defendant $100 or two months' hard labour, and the remainder $3 each or seven days' imprisonment.

Yesterday, at the Marine Court a seaman on the Empress of India, named McGrath, was charged with being absent without leave. It was stated that defendant behaved insolently to the first mate, and then complained of being unwell. He was sent to the doctor, who said there was nothing wrong with him, and that he was fit for work. He was refused permission to go ashore, but went. Defendant, alleged that he was not properly treated on board. The petty officers, especially the boatswain, treated the men like dogs. He was ordered to forfeit eight days' pay, and was sentenced to ten weeks' hard labour.

Joseph Benham, second engineer of the s.s. Rubi, and Victor Manales, second officer of the same ship, were charged before Mr. Melbourne yesterday with having in their possession at Hunghom 153 taels of prepared opium without a certificate, and also with exporting the opium to a prohibited country, namely, the Philippine Islands. Defendants admitted possession but denied exportation.

Inspector O'Sullivan accepted the plea, and withdrew the second charge. Revenue Officer Widen said the defendants were under observation from 7 o'clock in the evening. They were seen to enter an hotel and the opium was taken into them by a Chinese. The defendants left the hotel about 11 p.m., and were followed to Tsim Tsa Tsai, whence they took rickshaws to Hunghom. Inspector O'Sullivan spoke to seeing the defendants in rickshaws at Hunghom, and on the wharf he arrested them. There were no previous convictions against the men. His Worship imposed a fine of $500 on each man, the alternative being three months' imprisonment. The opium was ordered to be sent to the Opium Farmer.

CHESS.

An Inter-Club Challenge Shield has been presented by Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C., to be won three years in succession. Each team to consist of 5 men, and each player to play his opponent two games. The score is one for a win and a half for a draw. The result of six games played on Monday are: H.K. Chess Club won 4; Club Lusitano won 2. Four more games to be played.

The Y.M.C.A. meet the H.K. Chess Club on Thursday, the 9th, at 5.15 p.m.

END OF CANTON DIFFERENCES.

AN AMICABLE SETTLEMENT.

A dispatch through Reuter's Agency says that communications between the Canton Government and the British Consul General will be resumed again shortly. The Peking Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Sir John Jordan, the British Minister in Peking, having amicably settled the difference between the Canton Government and the British Consul, which was caused by the latter ignoring the local authorities on the ground that the Chinese Republic was not recognised, and by the refusal of the Governor at Canton to communicate with the British Consul General, except through the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, whom the Consul General charged with using discourteous language when demanding the surrender from the British Leased Territory, the Shamen, of a Chinese to the Canton police.

THE CHEUNG CHAU PIRACY.

At the Magistracy yesterday Mr. Hazeland heard further evidence in the case in which a Chinese and two women are charged with being concerned in the piratical attack upon Cheung Chau police station in August last.

A sergeant-interpreter at the Cheung Chau Police Station said he was lying in his hammock when he heard a great noise in the Police Station. On turning round he saw over ten men in the station. An Indian constable was standing at the entrance and some of the men fired at him. Witness became frightened and at once jumped down from the hammock and then into the water. Before he jumped witness saw some of the men go towards the pier, and then into a boat to two ferry launches. Witness then heard a sound like hammering in the charge-room. This lasted for about 40 minutes, witness being hidden amongst the beams at the pier the whole time. The robbers then went into the main street, and when witness went up to the pier later they had gone. He saw two Indian constables lying dead in the street and another on the pier, which was in close proximity to the Police Station. He could not identify the defendants.

P. S. Boulger, sergeant in charge of the Police Station, said he was asleep in his matshed, which was at the top of the hill, about 300 yards from the station, when he was awakened by someone shouting, and a station coolie came up to him. He was informed that the station was full of robbers, and on going there he found that the door was broken. There were no robbers in the charge-room, but witness found that all the arms and ammunition which belonged to the Government were missing. Witness now identified certain revolvers and carbines produced as similar to those which were in the Police Station. On going out witness saw a ferry launch moving from her moorings and he went along the foreshore in that direction, and approached to within 20 yards of the pier. He then got on top of a house and opened fire, which the robbers subsequently returned. Witness changed his position to another roof and again opened fire. There was a lot of shouting on the pier, and he saw 30 or 40 men boarding the launch. A brisk fire was kept up from the launch until it left the Harbour, when witness returned to the Station and found two Chinese lying dead.

Inspector Watt gave evidence to receiving the defendants from the Macao authorities, and to finding the various properties on a junk, a photograph of which was produced.

The hearing was further adjourned to today.

A CLEVER PHOTOGRAPHIC DEVICE.

A very important American invention has just been placed on the market which makes a strong appeal to every man of small means who desires to have an independent business of his own but lacks ready money. This invention is a most remarkably clever photographic device. By its use you can develop plates right out in the open air, in the very twinkling of an eye, and the camera is so arranged that you can take pictures at the rate of 100 an hour—each one finished and developed complete and—in less than a minute—ready to deliver to the purchaser. Seven entirely different styles of pictures can be made with this remarkable machine. One of them is a round button plate which, when mounted in a gilt frame, can be stuck in the coat lapel, and which are popular all over the world. Then, there are four different styles of tintype pictures. A few years ago, the demand for tintype pictures was practically dead, but, this new process, which enables photographers to immediately deliver photographs in the open air, has restored them to popularity, and there is an enormous demand for them at the present time. The most popular picture brought out by this new process, however, is the new post card, developed in exactly the same way as the tints, and the sales on this one feature alone, we are informed, run up into the thousands a year.

Remarkable statements come in from America as to the sums of money that are made by operators of this outfit. The manufacturer has a letter from a Chicago operator, who earned $770 clear profit in eleven months. This same manufacturer has hundreds of letters, proving earnings of from $5 to $12 a week. A great many operators do not follow this business as a profession, but simply take advantage of the fairs, conventions, and gatherings of all kinds, and almost always clean up from $5 to $10 in a single day at this sort of an affair. This is a proposition that the inventors say will stand the strictest investigation, and should appeal to people in every part of the world. An advertisement respecting this invention will be found in another column.

THE BALKAN WAR.

IMPROVED PEACE PROSPECTS.

The conferences among Ambassadors and diplomats in London on Saturday and Sunday have apparently had the effect of inducing a calmer frame of mind all round. The Turks on Monday were to propose new concessions, and the negotiations will continue. Both Turkey and the Allies equally appreciate the fact which the Powers have emphatically urged upon them that the resumption of hostilities will entail the most dangerous complications. The Powers will not intervene until Adrianople surrenders, which is expected at the outside in ten days. It is believed that the Turkish Government is desirous of relieving itself of responsibility by yielding perforce to united Europe.

NEW TURKISH PROPOSALS.

The Conference sat for an hour on Monday and adjourned.

The Turks presented proposals for certain cessions of territory northward of Adrianople, but excluding the city, also undertaking to renounce rights to Crete, provided no other islands are demanded.

The Allies' Delegates thereupon consulted and drafted a resolution resolving that since the Turks had not replied satisfactorily to their last proposals to suspend the labours of the Conference.

Subsequently a general conversation took place, during which it was explained that a rupture was not intended, but there would be a suspension until a more satisfactory reply and one more consistent with the terms of the Allies was received. The Turks left perturbed and excited. The Allies state that there would certainly have been a rupture but for the advice of the Powers.

The delegates of the Allies are of opinion that an adjournment over the Orthodox Christmas will afford the Turks time to consider and submit more acceptable proposals at the next meeting, which will be held on Friday, and possibly on Thursday. In the meantime it is possible for private negotiations to be resumed between the delegates on both sides.

PANAMA CANAL TOLLS.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S VIEWS.

LONDON, January 7th.
A message from Washington states that it has now transpired that President Taft does not favour the Panama Canal tolls question with Great Britain being submitted to The Hague, but rather to a special board composed of an equal number of American and British citizens. It is stated that he expressed the view that at The Hague the anti-American moral pressure on the Tribunal would be enormous as all Europe is interested in the tolls question.

FOOD TAXES IN BRITAIN.

LONDON, January 7th.
The Conservatives are giving prominence to the idea of Sir Joseph Lawrence to grant a bounty of two shillings per quarter on colonial wheat instead of taxing foreign wheat and also a bounty for the home producer. The money for this would be found by the taxation of foreign manufactures, and thus both workers and agriculturists would be benefited. The scheme is at present being viewed very favourably, though time is being asked to consider the details, especially from the financial point of view.

The Times says that the rank and file of the Unionists at Westminster are realising with a sigh of relief that they are now almost solid against the food tax. It is understood that the preponderating view was communicated to Mr. Bonar Law yesterday. Naturally some of the leaders feel that they are in a rather difficult position. There is, however, every sympathy with the food tax stalwarts, who will be given every possible accommodation.

THE TANJONG PAGAR CASE.

LONDON, January 7th.
The Times announces that a settlement has been arrived at between Sir John Aird and the Tanjong Pagar Dock Board.

PORTUGUESE POLITICS.

LONDON, January 7th.

A message from Lisbon says that Senhor Duarte Leite, the retiring Premier, says the Cabinet resigned because the situation which called it into being, viz., the fear of disturbances arising from the Royalist invasion, had now disappeared.

GREAT BRITAIN AND TIBET.

LONDON, January 7th.

The Times, discussing the Chinese action in Tibet, says that Yuma Shih-Kai and his advisers think that Great Britain will not face another Lhasa expedition. They make a miscalculation. Britain will certainly not tolerate any further violation of Treaty rights, and the best way of terminating for ever Chinese attempts to re-assert sovereignty over Tibet is to send a British representative to Lhasa. Great Britain is in a false position when stress is laid on our right to maintain independent relations with Tibet while all communications go to Lhasa via Peking.

THE CHINESE OPIUM AGREEMENT.

LONDON, January 7th.

At question time in the House of Commons, Mr. F. D. Acland said the Government did not intend to terminate the Opium Agreement of 1911. The Government of India had taken steps to suspend the sales of certified opium.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT PROTESTS.

A message from Calcutta says it is understood that the French Government on behalf of Indo-China and the Siam Government are protesting against the Indian Government's policy of restricting opium exports on the ground that they will lose heavily on customs duty.

SMASHING THE TRUSTS.

LONDON, January 7th.

A correspondent at Washington telegraphs that the Supreme Court has now delivered judgment in connection with the cotton cornering case, the effect of which is to make cornering on change illegal. It is regarded as being the most far-reaching application of the Trust Law up to the present.

ENGLISH MINERS' WAGES ADVANCED.

LONDON, January 7th.

Owing to the increased price in the output of coal, the Conciliation Board for the English area has granted the miners an advance of five per cent., bringing up the wages to the 1908 point, which is the highest on record.

SIR SIDNEY OLIVER'S APPOINTMENT.

LONDON, January 7th.

Sir Sidney Oliver, the Governor of Jamaica, whose name was mentioned as the new Governor of Ceylon, has been appointed Permanent Secretary to the Board of Agriculture.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

LONDON, January 7th.

The Daily Telegraph says that it is believed that the Duke of Devonshire will move the rejection of the Home Rule Bill in the House of Lords.

FRENCH NAVAL DISASTER.

LONDON, January 7th.

A message from Toulon says that eight men were killed by the explosion of a steam pipe in the engine room of the French battleship Marsen.

LORD HARDINGE'S CONDITION.

LONDON, January 7th.

Reuter's correspondent at Delhi telegraphs that Lord Hardinge is improving. His wounds continue to heal, and he hopes to preside at the opening of the Legislative Council on the 27th inst.

as the Morris dances, evidence that the world-old belief in and practice of a living sacrifice to the gods is never far from the mind. And I think that the joyous and festival character which the dances possess is evidence that they were performed during the Saturnalian pageant of merry-making which preceded the final sacrifice of the victim. The Morris dance therefore takes us back to the childhood of our race, and may be the last vestige of a religious custom which it has made from the groves of Druidical sacrifice to the playgrounds of the county council schools, it has pre-

A few Formamint Tablets, sucked like sweets, entirely rid the mouth cavity of germ growths, and thus cure Sore Throat in the shortest possible time.

A Physician writes in the "Practitioner," December, 1907:—
"I have never had Sore Throat myself since I began to use Wulff's Formamin, although I suffered periodically before."

These claims are thoroughly endorsed by the Medical Profession; there are thousands of testimonials written in the same strain as the two quoted above; and amongst the most prominent users of Formaminil are such celebrated people as Queen Alexandra's confidential secretary, the Hon. Charlotte Knollys, the ex-Prime Minister of Great Britain, the Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, M.P.; Lord Kingsland, Lord Justice Buckley; Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P., the Archbishop of Bristol, and the Dowager Countess of Wicklow, etc.

• Harmful and worthless tablets with names very similar to Formaminil, are frequently offered for sale. Refuse these firmly, and insist on Wulfin's Formaminil, which is sold at all Chemists in bottles of 50 tablets.
